FALL 2021

The Chef's Garden, Inc.

Growing vegetables slowly and gently in full accord with nature.

Autumn, the 19th-century poet John Keats once wrote, is the "season of mists and mellow fruitfulness." This is also the season when a rainbow of brilliantly hued leaves begins to crunch beneath your feet; when footballs spiraling across a field can cause people to erupt into loud cheers; and when families enjoy bonfires, s'mores, and hot cider after a hayride.

Autumn is a season of sweatshirts and jeans, of cooling temperatures, and of deliciously hearty soups, stews, casseroles, and more that fill us up with flavorful seasonal root vegetables and other mouth-wateringly delicious crops.

Fall squash. Carrots. Sweet potatoes. Parsnips. Beets. Collard greens. Kale. Arugula. Lettuce. Cabbage.

At The Chef's Garden, fall means we're busy planting and harvesting to provide for our cherished chefs. We're catching up with people we've haven't seen in a while, giving farm tours—oh, how we've missed our farm tours —and filling orders of regeneratively farmed fresh vegetables, herbs, microgreens, and edible flowers as we serve as personal farmers for our beloved chefs.

As you plan your seasonal dishes and menus, we look forward to hearing from you so we can provide you with the delicious and nutritious vegetables you need for your culinary masterpieces.

Root Crop

Some of our favorite vegetables grow above ground and flaunt their beauty. But our root crops develop beneath the surface. Shrouded in mystery, they don't see the light until harvest. And what a moment it is to celebrate the brilliant emergence of our multi-colored carrots, beets, potatoes and fall radishes. It's like pulling a rabbit out of a hat — a magical moment of Mother Nature's sleight of hand.

Cruciferous

The incredible diversity, flavor and health benefits of cruciferous vegetables are nothing new to us. We've been saying that since we started growing them. The quality, flavor, freshness and color of our cauliflower, kohlrabi, greens, kale and Brussels sprouts are unmatched and perfect for fall. Our cruciferous collection comes in a riot of colors — filled pinks, purples, whites and golds that maintain their color and integrity beautifully, no matter how you cook them.

Greens

Our collection of greens includes arugulas and mustards that add bold flavor and texture to the plate — from the lacy leaf structure and peppery heat of our ruffled red and wasabi mustards, to the buttery texture and mellow richness of our spinach. As summer yields to fall, more substantial greens are a natural part of heartier cool-weather menus.

Lettuce

The Chef's Garden grows a multitude of lettuce varieties, each with its own distinctive appearance, texture and color in a beautiful range of dark reds, deep greens and speckles. Nature has uniquely engineered each one to be a little bit different from all of its cousins. Some are long and narrow with fewer leaves, while others are short full tufts or flower-shaped rosettes. And of course, we harvest, pack and ship our lettuce within 24 hours for optimal freshness.

Micro Greens

Plating is about precision, proportion and balance, both visually and in terms of flavor. Chefs shouldn't be locked into a one-size-fits-all limit of options. That's why we've separated our smallest greens and herbs into specific categories according to their stage of development — the tiniest being "micro." The incremental size differences may seem minute, but it's our goal to provide our chefs with every opportunity to find the perfect fit for their perfect plates, every time.

Potatoes

Potatoes from The Chef's Garden are as varied as autumn leaves – in flavor, texture and color. All of our potatoes, whether sweet or traditional, are resplendent in orange, blue, purple, red, white and gold. Each variety has its own distinctive, complex characteristics of flavor, texture and beauty. What they all share in common, though, is potential. Roasted, poached, pureed and beyond, in our chefs' hands the potential for the humble potato is exponential.

Fall Favorites

Butternut squash is a foundational, versatile fall vegetable. It's at home in a cozy soup, roasted and topping a salad of fresh field greens like Swiss chard, or on the Thanksgiving table. Badger flame beets, with their fiery interior, are eye-popping visual beauties. Baby leeks are a fresh green way to inject a mild onion flavor to all things fall. Our collection of mixed herbs, and spicy arugasabi blooms add bright flavors all over the menu.

Edible Flowers

Most flowers play sensory reveille, yet some don't finish the tune because they leave out the final flourish — the element of taste. Our edible flowers hit all the right notes. Their visual beauty, fragrances, textures and flavors are sensory overload. How do they sound? How about "Yum."
